defining a predetermined number of axioms, a specific type of rule being allocated to each axiom; and permitting a user to create a rule of a specific type by selecting an associated axiom.

50. (Currently Amended) The computer-readable storage medium according to claim 47, further containing software code that when executed by the processor causes the processor to also implement:

permitting a user to at least one of create and edit at least one class structure.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. The present application has been thoroughly reviewed. The Examiner respectfully submits that claims 1-51 are allowed over the prior art made of record.

Reasons for Indicating Allowable Subject matter

- 6. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The examiner, upon searching a variety of databases, respectfully submits that:
- a) -- forming at least one object model, the object model including means for allocating data class which contains an inference unit for generating output variables permitting of evaluating rules; and inputting a query command for instructing the inference unit to generating output variables by evaluating rules, wherein the rules formed a declarative system and linking the components of the class structures-- as embodied in the independent claim 1, and

b) -- forming at least one object model, the object model including at least one class structure; allocating data according to one or more classes of the at least one class structure; providing a set of rules, the rules forming a declarative system and linking components of class structures -- as embodied in the independent in independent claims 29, 46, 47, and 51. These limitations, in context with the other limitations of the claims was not disclosed by, would not have been obvious over, nor would have been fairly suggested by the prior art of record.

The other dependent claims 1-28, 30-45, and 48-50, being further limiting to the independent claims 1, 29 and 47, definite and fully enabled by the Specification are also allowed.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
